INDIA'S AMAZING PERFORMANCE IS INSPIRING THE WORLD

As the Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, inaugurated the new parliament house, a glorious chapter was added to the saga of the remarkable achievements of the Modi government. A building combining heritage with modernity, equipped with advanced facilities and a futuristic vision, celebrates architectural genius and Indian grandeur. The inauguration of the new parliament house has once again filled the hearts of every Indian with a sense of pride and achievement, strengthening their faith in the dream of a New India that is self-reliant, strong, and developed. The new parliament building not only symbolises the success of Indian democracy; it also reinforces faith in the democratic system and represents its strength and vibrancy. It also represents the magical transformation that has led billions of dreams to blossom, creating new aspirations while fulfilling the earlier ones. While it reinforces faith in democracy and democratic institutions, it also inspires the world in many ways. It has rightly become a source of national pride.

While the entire world watches with a sense of awe and appreciation when India gifts itself the new parliament house, it was something impossible to even dream of just nine years ago. As the nation today celebrates its glorious journey of the last nine years of Modi government, the Congress-led UPA days still haunt the memory of the people. The Congress led UPA era of misrule, corruption, looting of public money, policy paralysis, and weak-kneed defence policy had created an atmosphere of hopelessness and negativity, resulting in people losing trust in politics and political leaders. Every day, the newspaper headlines carried a new scam as the economy was in shambles with growth rates touching new lows and double-digit inflation. India was counted among the fragile five economies of the world, with terror outfits knocking at its doors at the behest of Pakistan as Congress tried to appease the separatist forces within the country. The condition was deplorable, and the nation was fully submerged in despair.

The new parliament building not only symbolises the success of Indian democracy; it also reinforces faith in the democratic system and represents its strength and vibrancy

The journey from 'fragile five' to 'top five' in the last nine years has been a saga of transformative change, targeted reforms, and strengthening of the politics of performance in the country. As the fastest-growing major economy in the world, India is seen as a 'bright spot' in the otherwise gloomy global scenario, becoming the growth engine of the world in the post-Covid era. Today, if one looks back to the last nine years, every sector shows amazing transformation with miraculous success stories. While figures show the emergence of a New India, the vulnerable sections of society have earned new confidence on the strength of numerous innovative schemes and effective measures that empower them and improve their lives drastically. The poor, farmers, labourers, SCs, STs, OBCs, oppressed, exploited, women, and youth—all have found their voice and opportunities to march ahead with their heads held high. From villages to urban centres, from agriculture to manufacturing, and from handicrafts to the digital world, India is leading everywhere with newfound confidence and hope for the future.

As the nation moves ahead in the 'Amrit Kaal', with the principles of 'panch pran' inscribed in its heart, realising the dream of a developed India doesn't appear too far away. In the last nine years, despite many adversities, including the COVID-19 pandemic, a disruptor, and anti-development opposition, India has done wonders by elevating itself from local to global forums. As India marches ahead under the charismatic and visionary leadership of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, there is no doubt that the resolve of the 'Amrit Kaal' will be realised. India's amazing performance is inspiring the world. ■

PM Places historic “Sengol” & Releases commemorate Coin & Stamp

Sacred Sengol

Referring to the establishment of sacred Sengol, the Prime Minister said that in the great Chola empire, Sengol was seen as a symbol of the path of service duty and nation. He said under the guidance of Rajaji and Adheenam, this Sengol became the sacred symbol of the transfer of power. The Prime Minister once again bowed to the Adheenam saints who came to bless the occasion this morning. “It is our good fortune that we could restore the dignity of this sacred Sengol. This Sengol will keep on inspiring us during the proceedings of the House”, he said.

India is mother of democracy

“India is not only a democratic nation but also the mother of democracy”, the Prime Minister said as he noted that the nation is the principal foundation for global democracy. He underlined that democracy is not just a system that is practiced in India but it is a culture, thought and tradition. Referring to the Vedas, the Prime Minister highlighted that it teaches us the principles of democratic assemblies and committees. He also mentioned the Mahabharata where one can find the description of a Republic and said that India has lived and breathed democracy in Vaishali. “The Anubhav Mantappa of Lord Basweswara is a thing of pride for all of us”, Shri Modi added. Highlighting the inscriptions found in Tamil Nadu belonging to 900 AD, the Prime Minister said that it surprises everyone even in today’s day and age. “Our democracy is our inspiration and our Constitution is our resolution”, Shri Modi said as he noted that the biggest representative of this resolution is the Parliament of India. Reciting a shloka, the Prime Minister explained that luck runs out for those who stop moving forward, but the fate of those who keep moving forward continues to soar.

Amrit Kaal

The Prime Minister said that after years of slavery, after losing so much, India resumed its journey and reached the Amrit Kaal. “Amrit Kaal is a period of forging new dimensions of development while preserving our heritage. This is Amrit Kaal of giving a new direction to the nation. This is Amrit Kaal of fulfilling innumerable aspirations”, he said. Underscoring the need for new lifeblood for democracy through a verse, the Prime Minister emphasized that the workplace of the democracy, i.e. Parliament should also be new and modern.

India of the 21st century is filled with confidence

The Prime Minister recalled the golden period of India’s prosperity and architecture. He said that centuries of slavery robbed us of this glory. The Prime Minister said that India of the 21st century is filled with confidence. “Today’s India is leaving behind the mentality of slavery and embracing that ancient glory of art. This new Parliament Building is a living example of this endeavour”, the Prime Minister said. “This building has Virasat (heritage) as well as Vastu (Architecture),

THE SACRED SENGOL

I thank the PM for bringing back the sacred Sengol to life: JP Nadda

BJP National President Shri Jagat Prakash Nadda in his tweeter message highly appreciated Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's decision to install the sacred Sengol in the historic moment of the inauguration of the New Parliament building. The sacred Sengol is of national significance and holds historical importance. It was first received by Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru on August 14, 1947, in presence of leaders like Shri Rajendra Prasad, from priests specially flown in from Tamilnadu.

A solemn and sacred Tamil tradition of Sengol Vesting Ceremony accompanied by a recital of 11 verses from the Theveram text, invoking the blessings of Lord Shiva, for the ruler took place just before Pandit Nehru hoisted the national flag and made his 'Tryst with Destiny' address, symbolising the transfer of power from British Viceroy Lord Mountbatten to Indian Prime Minister Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru. The Sengol represents the highest moral authority to rule

I thank the Prime Minister for bringing back to life this very important aspect of our history - that the transfer of power to the people of India from a foreign ruler was not direct but through a spiritual process, as known to ancient India. This also emphasises the emotional and spiritual integration of India, from North to South.

There is no more appropriate occasion than 'Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav' to recall the event on the eve of India's independence and no better place for the sacred Sengol, than the hallowed portals of the New Parliament.

Sengol - symbol of transfer of power from the British to India: Amit Shah

This is the same Sengol that was accepted by the first Prime Minister of India, Shri Jawaharlal Nehru at his residence on the night of 14th August, 1947 in the presence of several leaders.

PM Modi releases Rs. 75 coin

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi on May 28 released a special commemorative postage stamp and a Rs. 75 coin to mark the inauguration of the new Parliament building.

He released the coin and the stamp at the inauguration event held at the Lok Sabha chamber of the new Parliament building.

Shah on 24 May, 2023 said, "Even after 75 years of independence, most of the people in India are not aware of this event in which India's transfer of power took place through handing over of Sengol to Pt Jawaharlal Nehru. It was a special occasion on the night of August 14, 1947, celebrating India's independence. On this night Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru received the 'Sengol' from the Adheenams (Priests) of the Thiruvaduthurai Adheenam (Mutt) in Tamil Nadu, who had specially arrived for the occasion. It was precisely the moment in which power was transferred by the British into the hands of Indians. What we are celebrating as independence is actually marked by the very moment of handing over the 'Sengol'.

The Hon'ble Prime Minister took a decision to adopt the Sengol as a national symbol of the Amrit Kaal. The new building of Parliament will witness the very same event, with Adheenam (Priests) repeating the ceremony and vesting the Hon'ble PM with the Sengol.

The Home Minister further elaborated on the Sengol and said, "The Sengol is profound in meaning, which is derived from the Tamil word "Semmai", meaning "Righteousness". It is blessed by the high priests of a leading Dharmic Mutt in Tamil Nadu. The Nandi, with its unyielding gaze as the beholder of "Nyaya", is hand-carved at the top. Most importantly, the recipient of the Sengol has the "order" ("Aanai" in Tamil) to rule justly and fairly. This is what is most appealing, for those elected to serve the people must never forget this."

The same "Sengol" from 1947 will be installed by the Hon'ble Prime Minister in the Lok Sabha, prominently close to the Speaker's podium. It will be displayed for the Nation to see, and will be taken out on special occasions.

Home Minister Shri Amit Shah said that the Parliament House is the most appropriate and sacred place to install the historic "Sengol".

The establishment of "Sengol", makes the spirit of 15 August 1947 unforgettable. It is the symbol of the promise of boundless hope, boundless possibilities and a resolve to build a strong and prosperous nation. It will be a symbol of the Amrit Kaal, which will witness the glorious era in which India will be taking its rightful place.

A special website (sengol1947.ignca.gov.in), with details and downloadable videos about the Sengol, was launched by the Home Minister at the event on that day He said, "We want the people of India to see this and learn about this historic event. It is a matter of pride for all." ■

The Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi on May 28, 2023 interacted and honoured the Shramiks who built the new Parliament House. A new gallery is put up in the new building, immortalizing their contribution.

The Prime Minister tweeted: "Today, as we inaugurate the new building of our Parliament, we honour the Shramiks for their tireless dedication and craftsmanship."

"We witness the spirit of 'Ek Bharat, Shreshtha Bharat' in every particle of this building", he said.

New Parliament House equipped with latest technology

The Prime Minister pointed out the difficulties faced by the Parliamentarians in getting work done in the old Parliament building and gave examples of challenges due to the lack of technical facilities and paucity of seats in the House. The need for a new Parliament, the Prime Minister said, was being discussed for decades and it was the need of the hour that a new Parliament should be developed. He expressed delight that the new Parliament House is equipped with the latest technology and the halls are also sunlit.

Contributions of Shramiks immortalized

Recalling his interactions with the 'Shramiks' who contributed to the construction of the new Parliament, the Prime Minister informed that 60,000 Shramiks were given employment during the construction of the Parliament and a new gallery has been put up in the house highlighting their contributions. "It is the first time that the contributions of Shramiks have been immortalized in the new Parliament", the Prime Minister remarked.

Talking about the last 9 years, the Prime Minister said any expert will treat these 9 years as years of reconstruction and Gareeb Kalyan. He said that in this hour of pride for the new building, he also felt satisfaction for the 4 crore houses for the poor. Similarly, the Prime Minister expressed satisfaction with measures like 11 crore toilets, more than 4 lakh km of roads to connect villages, more than 50 thousand Amrit Sarovars, and more than 30 thousand new Panchayat Bhawans. "From Panchayat Bhawans to Parliament only one inspiration guided us, that is, the development of the nation and its people", he added.

Azadi Ka Amrit Kaal is a historic period

Recalling his address to the nation from the Red Fort on the occasion of Independence Day, the Prime Minister said there comes a time in the history of every country when the consciousness of that country is awakened. He underlined that such a time had come in India 25 years before independence during Gandhi Ji's non-cooperation movement which filled the entire country with a belief. "Gandhi ji had connected every Indian with the resolution of Swaraj. This was the time when every Indian was fighting for freedom", the Prime Minister remarked as he highlighted that its result was India's independence in 1947. Shri Modi said that the Azadi Ka Amrit Kaal is a stage in independent India which can be compared to the historic period. He noted that India will complete 100 years of its independence in the next 25 years which is the 'Amrit Kaal'. The Prime Minister emphasized the need to make

India a developed nation in these 25 years with the contributions of every citizen. "History is witness that the faith of Indians is not limited to the nation itself", the Prime Minister noted as he highlighted that India's freedom struggle had awakened a new consciousness in many countries of the world at that time.

Spirit of - Nation First

"When a country like India, full of diversity, with a huge population that tackles various challenges, moves forward with a belief, it inspires many countries of the world. Every achievement of India is going to become an achievement for different countries in different parts of the world in the coming days", he said. The Prime Minister underlined India's responsibility becomes bigger as its determination to develop will become the strength of many other countries.

The Prime Minister said that the new Parliament Building will strengthen the nation's belief in its success and will inspire everyone towards a Viksit Bharat. "We will have to move with a spirit of - Nation First. We will have to keep the path of duty above all. We will have to be an example with our conduct while constantly improving ourselves. We will have to tread our own path", he said.

New Parliament will give new energy and strength

The Prime Minister said that the new Parliament will give new energy and strength to the largest democracy of the world. He said while our Shramjivis have made the Parliament so grand, it is the responsibility of the Parliamentarians to make it divine with their dedication. Stressing the importance of the Parliament, the Prime Minister said that it is the resolution of 140 crore Indians that consecrates the Parliament. He expressed the hope that every decision taken here will adorn the coming centuries and strengthen the coming generations. The Prime Minister underlined that the path of empowerment of the poor, dalit, backward, tribal, disabled, and every deprived family of the society, along with prioritizing the development of the deprived will pass through this Parliament. "Every brick, every wall, every particle of this new Parliament House will be dedicated to the welfare of the poor", Shri Modi said. ## Every decision made, every action taken, has been guided to improve the lives of people: PM Modi

The Narendra Modi government at the centre has very successfully completed nine years in the office on 30 May 2023 and to mark the occasion, the Bharatiya Janata Party National President Shri Jagat Prakash Nadda kickstarted a month-long mega outreach programme from May 31 to June 30 where the focus will be the highly successful public service, good governance and welfare scheme and policies of PM Shri Narendra Modi. Inaugurating the mass outreach program Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi addressed a mega rally at Ajmer in Rajasthan. The party is also organising 51 such mega rallies across the country and PM Shri Modi is also scheduled to address many of these rallies. As per the information, the Bharatiya Janata Party will organise various programmes through 144 clusters covering 543 Lok Sabha seats and over 4000 Vidhan Sabha seats across the country.

In the past nine years, the Modi Government has been dedicated to the making of a "New India" and that of the welfare and empowerment of the poor. Today, the whole world is saying that the 21st century belongs to India. In the past nine years India has transformed from policy paralysis to decisive policy while our economy has moved from being among "fragile five" to now established as "top five". In the past nine years the people of India has shunned the politics of "one family and its own development" and embraced the policy of "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas". PM Shri Narendra Modi has ended the politics of casteism, dynasty, nepotism, corruption and appeasement, and has established the politics of development, accountability and transparency.

Following the completion of nine eventful years at the Centre Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi said he is filled with humility and gratitude on the completion of nine years of BJP government. Shri Narendra Modi expressed his happiness over completing nine years at the Centre. In a twitter message Shri Modi said, "Today, as we complete 9 years in service to the nation, I am filled with humility and gratitude. Every decision made, every action taken, has been guided by the desire to improve the lives of people. We will keep working even harder to build a developed India. #9YearsOfSeva".

He also invited people to go through the nine years journey of the Modi government on 9years.narendramodi.in. "9 years of unwavering dedication to the nation's growth. I invite everyone to visit this site <https://nm-4.com/9yrsofseva> to get a glimpse of our development journey. It also gives an opportunity to highlight how people have benefited from various Government schemes. #9YearsOfSeva," he further wrote in a tweet.

Modi govt made 'historic achievements': JP Nadda

The Modi government made historic achievements during its nine years at the centre and India is marching ahead with full confidence, enthusiasm and a resolve to become a developed country.

BJP National President Shri JP Nadda said Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi keeps the resolution of 'Antyodaya' and service paramount in his policies, and the BJP government is ensuring that benefits of welfare schemes reach the last man in the queue.

Basic needs like health, education, economic self-reliance, road, water, electricity reached the country's remote areas during the nine years of the Prime Minister Narendra Modi's government, he added.

"Nine years of the Modi government have been of service, good governance and poor welfare," Shri Nadda tweeted. "Historic achievements have been made in the areas of national security, self-reliance, global prestige, economic strengthening etc."

"The reach of the government's welfare schemes is being ensured to the person at the end of the queue. Basic needs like health, education, economic self-reliance, road, water, electricity have reached remote areas," he said in a series of tweets.

In the 'Amrit Kaal of Independence', the BJP National President said, the country is marching ahead on the path of progress with full confidence and enthusiasm with the resolve of becoming a developed India.

While many of the developed countries have not been able to come out of the crisis precipitated by the Covid-19 pandemic, India is moving forward on the path of development at a fast pace, he added.

"Inspired by the spirit of 'Nation First', our government has given a new direction to India's destiny and future through several epoch-making decisions," he said. "Respected Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji's resolution of 'Panch Pran' shows us the way, he added". ■

India has gained a position of prominence: PM

Inaugurating the mass outreach program on 31 May, 2023 Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi addressed a massive rally at Ajmer in Rajasthan. Speaking to the people PM Shri Narendra Modi remembered the greats of Rajasthan who have nurtured the great land. The PM acknowledged the contributions of Prithviraj Chauhan's valour, Mirabai's devotion and Pathik Singhji's courage. He also paid tributes to Ahilyabai Holkar on her anniversary who championed the cause of women empowerment guiding India towards freedom.

9 years dedicated towards good governance and welfare of poor

PM Shri Modi said, "These nine years have been dedicated towards good governance and welfare of poor. The governance has been directed towards 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas'. The previous regime can be characterized as ridden by corruption, cities being constantly attacked upon by terrorists, unsafe conditions for women, lack of basic amenities for the poor among others." He added that the Congress-led UPA government's Prime Minister was controlled by a superpower, the Congress Party which was a remote-controlled Government creating unstable and inefficient policies only pandering votes for appeasement.

India has gained a position of prominence

Elaborating on the situation in the country before 2014, PM Shri Modi said, "It was your vote that changed this system of maladministration and converted it to Good Governance. Today, India has gained a position of prominence and has achieved tremendous exports. The Congress-led misrule has also fooled the people of this country on Garibi Hatao". One big example of Congress led misrule is the universal vaccination programme for the women and children, he added further.

Distributed over 19 crore gas connections

The PM remarked, "We all have seen our mothers cook food using wood as a fuel, and the Congress government only showed apathy towards women. In 2014 there were only 14 crores gas connections showcasing how an entire generation was deprived of gas connections in the country." To this PM Modi added, "A situation like this was simply unacceptable to me and that over the past nine years we have distributed over 19 crore gas connections to the people of this country and have subsequently improved the lives of the womenfolk in this country." Highlighting how the BJP-led NDA Government has addressed drinking water issue, the PM stated, "BJP Government has provided the state with 9 crore water connection in 3 years."

This is the “New India” which is fast moving ahead on mission mode

SALIENT POINTS OF THE PRESS CONFERENCE BY BJP NATIONAL GENERAL SECRETARY SHRI TARUN CHUGH ON 30 MAY, 2023 AT THE PARTY HEADQUARTERS IN NEW DELHI TO MARK THE COMPLETION OF THE NINE YEARS OF THE BJP GOVERNMENT UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF PRIME MINISTER SHRI NARENDRA MODI JI.

The past nine years of the Narendra Modi Government has been dedicated to the making of “New India” and that of the welfare and empowerment of the poor. Today the whole world is saying that the 21st century belongs to India. In the past nine years India has transformed from “policy paralysis” to “decisive policy” while our economy has moved from being among “fragile five” to now established as “top five”.

In the past nine years the people of India has shunned the politics of “one family and its own development “ and embraced the policy of “Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas”. Our Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji has ended the politics of casteism, dynasty, nepotism, corruption and appeasement, and has established the politics of development, accountability and transparency.

On the occasion of the completion of the nine years of the Narendra Modi Government, the Bharatiya Janata Party National President Shri Jagat Prakash Nadda has kickstarted a month long mega outreach programme from May 31 to June 30 where the focus will be the highly successful public service, good governance and poor welfare centric scheme and policies of the Shri Narendra Modi ji.

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi will kickstart this nationwide mega outreach programme from Ajmer in Rajasthan. Next month 51 such maha rallies will organised

Bharatiya Janata Party National President Shri Jagat Prakash Nadda ji has kickstarted started a month long mega outreach programme from May 31 to June 30 where the focus will be the highly successful public service across the country. Through digital rallies, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji will have direct conversation with crores of the Bharatiya Janata Party workers, his followers and well-wishers and with those who are working for our country and our society.

A website has also been launched which focuses on the nine years of the Narendra Modi Government and a missed call number 9090902024 has also been launched. In the next one month the Bharatiya Janata Party will organise its various programmes through 144 clusters covering 543 Lok Sabha seats and over 4000 Vidhan Sabha seats.

Similarly, public meetings will also be organised across the country with the theme of public service, good governance and welfare of poor people covering over 500 Lok Sabha and over 4,000 assembly constituencies. Press conferences will be organised at over 600 places across the country. In all these programmes over 16 lakh workers will participate.

The Bharatiya Janata Party will organise outreach programme to garner people’s support for our Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji. Senior BJP leaders will meet over 5 lakh families across the country and seek support for the Narendra Modi Government. Similarly, BJP leaders will also meet important and influential citizens and seek support for our Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji.

During the month long campaign the Bharatiya Janata Party will also organise various programmes across the country which include two -wheeler rallies, outreach programme with party workers, one public meeting in each Vidhan Sabha, night stay at every village, Yuva Samwad programme, Janjatiya Gaurav Yatra, Modi Mitra Mandal, and social outreach campaign.

The Bharatiya Janata Party National President has created 144 clusters and in each cluster 3-4 Lok Sabha seats have been included. In each cluster senior BJP leaders will spend 8 days.

Two groups of party leaders and workers have been formed. 288 senior BJP leaders including Union Ministers and BJP functionaries will be part of these groups. These 288 leaders will meet over 1000 prominent families in every Vidhan Sabha , distribute booklets have details of the achievements of the Narendra Modi Government and seek their support for the Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji.

The Narendra Modi Government has done several important works in every Lok Sabha constituency. We celebrate it as a development pilgrimage of the New India. Our leaders and workers will go on development pilgrimage across the country in the next one month. Public rallies will be organised in each Vidhan Sabha. Interactions will be held with the beneficiaries of various schemes of the Narendra Modi Government in every Shakti Kendras.

The Bharatiya Janata Party will also organise exhibitions of the achievements of the Narendra Modi Government in the past nine years. In every booth the BJP workers will visit each household across the country from June 20-30. The people will be made aware about the message that this is the right time to further push the development journey of our country started by the Narendra Modi Government and that we cannot stop now and keep moving forward under the leadership of our Honourable Prime Minister Shri

During the month long campaign the Bharatiya Janata Party will also organise various programmes across the country which include two -wheeler rallies, outreach programme with party workers, one public meeting in each Vidhan Sabha

Narendra Modi ji.

During the Congress party government all development schemes and works remained confined to paper work. But in the Narendra Modi Government effective programmes are made and quickly and efficiently implemented on the ground. Foundation laying and inauguration of schemes now take place during one tenure which speaks volumes about the efficiency and transparency of the Narendra Modi Government.

During the previous government only 14 paise of the one rupee sent for development by the Centre used to reach the poor. But under the Narendra Modi Government if 100 rupees are sent from the Centre then this entire money reaches the poor , without getting siphoned off by commission agents and middlemen. Our Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji has eradicated this corrupt “hand” which used to eat 85 piase of the poor from governance, and made governance free from corruption.

In the past nine years India has broken several shackles of colonialism. Now Raj Path is now Kartavya Path, Race Course Road is now Lok Kalyan Marg, and Prime Minister is now serving the people of the country as Pradhan Sewak.

Under the Narendra Modi Government Article 370 was repealed thus integrating Jammu and Kashmir with the country in its true sense, the curse of triple talaq was ended thus liberating our Muslim sisters, terrorism was sternly dealt with surgical strikes and air strikes, the centuries old issue was resolved which paved the way for the construction of the grand Ram Temple in Ayodhya.

Today’s India is proud of its rich legacy and history, and is developing fast to emerge as “New India”. Today India has pace in development, it has power and capabilities, it has strength and security, it has patience and understanding. This is the story of “New India” . It is the India of the vision and dreams of our Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji. This is the “New India” which is fast moving ahead on mission mode. ■

PM Modi Story

Who Can Lead Mahila Morcha?

By: Bali Bhagat

What are the traits of the person who can lead Mahila Morcha? Which leadership qualities make the person eligible to be the head of women's group? Here is what PM Shri Narendra Modi thinks about it.

In the year 1997-98, Shri Narendra Modi was incharge of Jammu and Kashmir. One day there was a party meeting and Shri Modi was present in the meeting. During discussion Shri Modi asked the party workers about various morchas of the party including SC Morcha, ST Morcha and Yuva Morcha. When he asked about the Mahila Morcha, party workers replied that they don't have a Mahila Morcha as women in the state don't come forward for such roles.

Shri Modi replied, there is no place in the entire country where Mahila Morcha can't be established. Here was the point where the party workers were about to get the lesson of their lifetime, that too from their own experience.

Shri Modi asked the workers, whenever you have wedding or any other social gathering in your village and women gather for the occasion in evening, there is a woman who leads other women of the village.

She is the one who looks after the arrangements after reaching the venue. She also suggests the hosts to make some changes as per rituals, helps women in seating arrangements. And thereafter, all the women obey to her instructions and she automatically becomes their leader.

Shri Modi then asked the party workers; do you remember any such woman in your village or town? The party workers replied that yes there is a woman in every village who leads other women.

Shri Modi then told the workers that because she has leadership qualities, that's why other women follow her instructions.

Why can't you contact such woman in your village, she can be your leader of the Mahila Morcha, asked Shri Modi. Shri Bali Bhagat, BJP leader from Jammu & Kashmir recalls this incident and says that it was an eye opener for all of us present in the meeting. We realized that it was within our reach but thought process of leader like Shri Modi made us visualize that we can have a leader for our Mahila Morcha. ■

Influence of Money Power must be contained

The growing influence of money power in elections has always been a matter of concern, but lately this problem has acquired dangerous dimensions. Money not only from indigenous sources but from foreign sources as well is reported to be playing havoc with our elections. In order to contain the corroding influence of money power at the polls the following measures should be

Seriously considered:

1. Election expenses should be regarded as a legitimate charge on the public exchequer. Political parties should be given grants on the basis of votes secured by them in the preceding elections. Candidates who are able to save their security deposit should be entitled to reimbursement by the State up to the maximum limit of expenditure permitted.
2. The expenditure incurred by a party on any candidate's election should be added to the candidate's own expenses.
3. There should be a ceiling on the expenditure which political parties can legitimately incur.
4. There should be a limit also to the external props of publicity used by a party such as newspaper advertisements, posters, leaflets, etc.
5. The accounts of political parties should be subject to statutory audit.

6. As recommended by the Tarkunde Committee, the Election Commission should be a multi-member body, and voting age must be reduced from 21 to 18 years.

The Janata Government had taken the historic step of allowing all recognised political parties the use of radio and television during the elections. There is need of further extension of the facility given. A scheme of political broadcasts also, apart from election broadcasts, should be drawn up.

Compulsory Voting

I feel that there is a case for compulsory voting in India. We have had seven General Elections till now, but the number of such electors who have never voted or who have been generally indifferent to elections is still legions. The 1980 Lok Sabha elections, like the 1977 elections, were contested on some very crucial issues. But out of 35.40 crore voters only 20.13 crore exercised their right of franchise. This means that more than 15 crore voters did not go to the polling booth. In several democracies voting is compulsory.

Foreign Policy

By making foreign policy a plaything in the game of politics, the present government has seriously undermined the national consensus that had developed on foreign policy during the last three decades.

In 1977, the Janata Party had fought the Lok Sabha elections almost entirely on domestic issues, and so, after winning the elections, emphasised the need for continuity in foreign policy. In 1980, however, the Congress (I) dragged foreign policy into the election arena and made it a major plank in these elections.

If India's relations with its immediate neighbours have suddenly turned sour, the roots of this development have to be traced to speeches delivered during the election campaign in which it was said, 'Even small neighbours of ours are behaving arrogantly with us.'

Big Brother Attitude would not serve our Interests

By pursuing a policy of good neighbourliness and mutually beneficial bilateralism, the Janata Government had for the first time in 30 years succeeded in creating a climate of trust and confidence in this region.

But now by reverting to the earlier Big Brother attitude towards these neighbouring countries, the new government has in twelve months wiped off all the gains of the earlier period. The charge is baseless, even malicious, that the Janata Government, in order to win the goodwill of neighbouring countries, has sacrificed vital national interests. The Salal Agreement with Pakistan was entered into on exactly the same terms as our predecessor government wanted to secure, but could not. On the question of the division of Ganga waters, while in 1975 our treaty with Bangladesh gave India only 11000 to 16000 cusecs of water, the treaty finalised by the Janata Government ensured augmentation of water supply to 20500 cusecs.

Failure to stand up to Soviet Intervention in Afghanistan

By acquiescing in USSR's military intervention in Afghanistan, which now has become virtual occupation of Afghanistan by Soviet Russia, the Government of India has tarnished the country's image the world over, and has isolated India completely from the neighbouring countries, the non-aligned nations and the Islamic world.

Freedom-loving Afghans, who have always been our friends, are never going to forgive us for our failure to stand up unequivocally against the Soviet intervention.

The joint statement issued at the end of Soviet President Mr. Brezhnev's recent visit to India says not a word about Afghanistan. India's silence in this regard is even more eloquent than its earlier equivocation.

No Justification for our Kampuchea Policy

Government's decision to recognise the Kampuchean regime propped up by the Vietnamese army is without any principled justification. This decision also has created serious misgivings about the independence of India's foreign policy, particularly in the eyes of the South-East Asian countries.

It would not be out of place to mention here that even while continuing efforts to normalise relations with China, the Janata Government never hesitated to condemn Chinese aggression on Vietnam. Aggression is aggression, irrespective of whether the victim is Kampuchea or Vietnam. India cannot afford to have double standards in such matters.

No Indo-Soviet Alignment

Independent observers cannot be blamed if they infer that Indo-Soviet friendship is getting transformed into Indo-Soviet alignment. The entire Indian people, all political parties in the country, appreciate the value of Moscow's friendship and would like to see it strengthened. During the Janata regime, despite misgivings in certain quarters, these ties of friendship did become deeper and maturer. But making Indo-Soviet ties meaningful and fruitful is one thing and allowing the impression to grow that in respect of world events, India has no strategic perception distinct from that of the USSR, is quite another.

Soviet Russia's armed intervention in Afghanistan and the reaction to this of America and its allies has precipitated in this part of the world a situation which would have prompted both India and Pakistan to forget the past and try to open a new chapter in Indo-Pakistan relations. It is a matter of regret that the leadership in both these countries has allowed a historic opportunity to slip by.

Pakistan ought to understand that the threat to its security posed by the presence of Soviet troops just beyond the Khyber Pass cannot be met simply by trying to grab arms and armaments from wherever it can.

A Strong and Stable Pakistan would serve Indian Interests

India too must realise that it is in India's own interest that there should be a strong and stable Pakistan between India and USSR as a buffer. Any temptation to take advantage of Pakistan's present difficulties can in the long run prove very costly to India herself.

The Government of India should take an initiative to overcome the setback in our relations with Pakistan. When BJP Vice-president Shri Jethmalani visited Pakistan a few months back in connection with the problems of Afghan refugees, President General Zia told him in the presence of the Indian Ambassador to Pakistan that Pakistan is agreeable to having a no-war pact with India. We should have pursued this matter from this point onwards. We should also take steps to resume talks with Peking at high level. ■

HOW THE MODI GOVERNMENT HAS OVERCOME THE CHALLENGE OF CHANGE

From new Parliament to GST, digital infrastructure to welfare architecture, in nine years it has moved the nation's story forward.

SMT. NIRMALA SITHARAMAN

Prime Minister Narendra Modi often says, we have not come here to enjoy power, but to bring about fundamental changes in critical areas of governance. Nine years is enough time to prove that he walked the talk.

The new Parliament built in record time, abrogation of Article 370, pushing up the economy into the world's top five despite Covid, amalgamation of 10 state-owned banks to four and getting them into prime health, the Goods and Services Tax, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, digital public infrastructure yielding six billion payment transactions in a month, 74 airports built and operationalised, delivery of six notoriously delayed infrastructure projects (one delayed by over five decades), repeal of 1,400 archaic laws and 39,000 compliances, permanent commission for women in the armed forces, highest ever defence exports, becoming the third largest producer of renewable energy — these are but a few outcomes of the fundamental changes made in the way we are governed.

The need for fundamental change in the way we are governed was not a cliché. The lethargy, the stasis in governance, were deep-rooted and, dare I say, a result of unstable governments or dynastic rule. It must be recognised that there have been attempts to break away from this even earlier. However, they didn't make much progress. Prime Minister Modi's political will and stability, vision,

New Parliament built in record time, abrogation of Article 370, pushing up the economy into the world's top five despite Covid, amalgamation of 10 state-owned banks to four and getting them into prime health, the Goods and Services Tax, 74 airports built and operationalised... a few outcomes of the fundamental changes...

relentless pursuit of set goals and putting nation above self are yielding results. The role of the Opposition has, sadly, been less in Parliament. It has been more to disrupt and delay through filing petitions in the courts of law rather than debate and discuss in the House. Over 15 cases, including on the GST, Article 370, vaccination, triple talaq, Central Vista, were vigorously argued only for them to lose in each one of them. In each of these cases, if the time spent in the courts is reconciled, then we have perhaps delivered outcomes in less than nine years' time.

It would not be an exaggeration to say that three of the nine years saw challenges beyond our control. The pandemic and its second wave, volatility in fuel and fertiliser prices, and the Ukraine war, have had spill-over effects globally. To provide immunity to our large population, there was a pressing need to have a vaccine in time. Thereafter, the emphasis was on manufacturing sufficient doses to meet the urgency. Then again, to get our people vaccinated. India conducted the biggest vaccination drive administering 220 crore vaccines — free of charge. If our prime minister strongly supported and encouraged speedy development and production of our vaccines, he had another sensitive job to perform. He used the trust that people have in him to appeal to all citizens to accept vaccination. He took the vaccine himself publicly, when he was eligible as per the policy. Why was this necessary? Because, some of our Opposition parties raised doubts, creating vaccine hesitancy among the people.

In his speech in the new Parliament, the prime minister drew a comparison: If parliamentarians needed a new House to discuss issues related to the common people, people needed a pucca house to live in. More than 3.5 crore pucca houses have been constructed in these nine years. 11.72 crore toilets have been constructed, with 100 per cent saturation achieved in rural areas. 12 crore households have been given access to clean drinking water.

It is with untiring work, rooting out corruption, delivery on promises and by remaining continuously responsive that Prime Minister Modi has earned the trust of the people. Trust is also earned by standing by those in distress. During Covid 2.97 crore Indians who were caught up in various parts of the world were safely brought back home. Similarly, over 20,000 Indians who were stuck in strife-torn countries were brought back.

The encouragement and support given to youth has shown in the results achieved in various global events. The number of higher educational institutions built and made operational is staggering, to say the least: 700 medical colleges, 15 AIIMS, over 69,000 medical seats, 7 IITs, 7 IIITs, 15 IIITs and 390 universities — all new.

Efficiencies have increased dramatically in many sectors such as fish production. It had taken 63 years to take the production level to 59.14 lakh tonnes. In just nine years, we have added another 59.89 lakh tonnes and globally we now rank third.

We rank second in fruit and vegetable production, next only to China. Our dairy sector which employs more than eight crore farmers today ranks first in world milk production —India contributes 22 per cent to the global milk production. We are the second largest honey producers in the world. Indian poultry sector ranks third globally in egg production.

Eliminating pilferages of benefits meant for eligible beneficiaries is a duty of a responsible government. Misuse of taxpayers' money had to be removed. 3.99 crore duplicate/fake ration cards and 4.11 crore fake LPG connections were cancelled. This has resulted in a saving of more than Rs 2.73 lakh crore (2021-22). However, in these nine years, total transfers through direct benefit transfer (DBT) are more than 29 lakh crore. For two years since the pandemic, over 80 crore people were given free foodgrain and pulses, so they do not remain hungry.

Approaching national security issues comprehensively and with a greater sense of purpose is a hallmark of this government. Gone are the days when we were told by the Raksha Mantri that there are no resources to better equip the forces. Our border roads and villages were left underdeveloped because, we were told, that if developed, they would be useful for the enemy. Now, PM Gati Shakti and the Bhaskaracharya National Institute for Space Applications and Geo Informatics (BISAG-N) are bringing resource efficiencies and real-time monitoring.

Transformative changes are happening in empowering women. For the first time, there are 1,020 women per 1,000 men. Maternal mortality rate has declined to 97 (2019-20). Under the MUDRA Yojana 68 per cent beneficiaries are women. Paid maternity leave has been increased from 12 to 26 weeks. Jan Aushadhi Kendras dispensed over 27 crore sanitary pads. Girls get admitted to Sainik schools now.

The past nine years were dedicated to lifting India from the hopeless morass it had been thrown into. The next 25 years leading to India@100 need similar dedicated, corruption-free governance. Policy stability and continuity are critical. PM Modi, as a sevak, has given India that stability. ■

COW-BASED ORGANIC FARMING - The need of the hour

RAJKUMAR
CHAHAR

Self-Reliant India is the dream of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. He knows it well that we can become self-reliant only when our agriculture, farmers and farming community will become self-sufficient. This is possible when we imbibe the principles of organic farming instead of chemical farming and make organic farming a mass movement. Cow products like cow dung and cow urine have been used in agriculture since time immemorial in Indian. Natural or Organic farming is a part of Indian culture, Indian civilization and our traditions since ancient times. There is a wealth of knowledge of natural farming available in the Vedas, the Puranas, the Upanishads. This farming is related to our roots. Our forefathers have been practicing natural farming since centuries ago. It is said in Rigveda- "Gavo Vishwasya Matarah", which means cow is the mother of the world and it is the nurturer of the world. It is said in the Vishnu Purana- "Sarveshamev Bhutana Gaavah Sharanmuttamam", which means the best shelter for all beings is cow. However, India's agricultural system has changed tremendously over the period of times. Indiscriminate use of chemical fertilizers, harmful pesticides and excessive use of ground water under pressure to increase production capacity due to ever increasing population of India has resulted in continuous decline in soil fertility, production, ground water level and human health. Owing to it even farmers are leaving farming due to rising fertilizers cost and dependence on the market.

PM Modi promoted organic Farming

Keeping these developments in view, Prime Minister Narendra Modi after the inception of BJP

Prime Minister Narendra Modi after the inception of BJP government at the centre in 2014 implemented various farmer-friendly policies like promotion of cow-based organic farming, neem coated Urea, farmer friendly Mandi, Soil Health Card, Soil testing...

government at the centre in 2014 implemented various farmer-friendly policies like promotion of cow-based organic farming, neem coated Urea, farmer friendly Mandi, Soil Health Card, Soil testing facility, crop insurance, Rs. 6000 per annum incentive to every farmer etc. for the wellbeing of the farming community of the country. The Prime Minister also focussed for such an agricultural method in which the cost is low, the yield is high, the quality of food grains is of high, human health remains good and the environment is also enriched. Only for that with the instructions of the Prime Minister the BJP government promoted the cow-based organic farming in various states of the country. In cow-based natural farming, nothing has to be bought from the market for the farming, but all the resources are available with the farmer. Natural farming is not a new thing for India.

Adopt natural farming, make mother earth safe

India has been an agriculture-based country by nature and culture. That's why our country will progress as our farmer's progress. Natural farming is a means of prosperity as well as respect and service to our mother earth. Prime Minister Narendra Modi said, "When you do natural farming, you serve mother earth, protect soil quality and its productivity. When you do natural farming, you serve nature and environment, when you do natural farming, you also get the privilege of serving mother cow".

Natural Farming Path to Prosperity

Natural farming method paves the way for prosperity for the farmers. Just as plants grow naturally in the forest, in the same way farmers in the fields can increase their production as well as increase the fertility of their land by adopting cow-based natural methods. Today, Government of India is giving subsidy of about two and a half lakh crore rupees annually on fertilizers, whereas this amount can be used for other development works in the country. If farmers adopt natural farming, then it will also avoid the damage caused by chemical farming. It is also possible to increase the income of the farmers through natural farming and up to 70 percent water can be saved in it.

Solving the Challenges of Climate Change

In the year 1977, the United Nations warned about Global Warming, despite this the problem of Global Warming is continuously increasing, but under the dynamic leadership of PM Narendra Modi, historical works are being done in the field of climate change in India and now India is a global leader in this field. Natural or organic farming is an effective solution to the challenges of climate change, the only requirement is that its benefits should be extended to every farmer. Farmers should not only adopt natural farming in every way but also make it a mass movement by spreading maximum publicity.

'Jeevamrit' increases the fertility of soil

Soil fertility depends on organic carbon. As per a survey, in the year 1960, the amount of organic carbon in the land of Pantnagar, Uttarakhand was 2.5%, which has come down to 0.6% today. When its quantity is less than 0.5%, the land becomes barren. The indiscriminate use of chemical fertilizers and pesticides makes the crops poisonous. For this reason, the number of patients with serious diseases like cancer is increasing. Cow-based organic farming is the most effective solution to increase the fertility of the land and save mankind from toxic elements. Fertilizers and pesticides for cow-based natural farming are made from cow dung and urine. In this, gram flour of lentils, a handful of soil and 200 liters of water have to be mixed. Farmers can prepare this 'Jeevamrit' by themselves. 'Jeevamrit' increases the fertility of the field in the same way as a small amount of curd turns milk into curd. 'Jeevamrit' for one acre of land can be prepared from one day's cow urine and dung of desi cow. Natural farming can be done in 30 acres of land with one cow. Bacterial activity generated from 'Jeevamrit' increases water seepage deep into the soil and it also increases water harvesting capacity.

Natural farming is a solution

Natural farming can prove to be a game changer for the country's economy. Through natural farming Environmental protection can also be done, the income of farmers can be doubled and common people will get healthy food. Natural farming is being practiced by 2 lakh farmers in Himachal Pradesh and about 3 lakh farmers in Gujarat. Many states from North Eastern India, Uttarakhand, Bihar are also adopting organic farming in a big way.

Earned 4.5 Lakh with an input cost of 80,000

In an interview a farmer brother from Gujarat, Daji Gohil says that he had heard about natural farming based on cow, but could not start natural farming due to lack of knowledge about the right methods. After this, in the year 2019, Subhash Palekar organized a 7-day training program in Dholra village of Rajkot, Gujarat in which Daji Gohil learned the tricks of natural farming by taking training. He said the initial cost of doing cow-based farming was up to Rs 80,000 and the income increased to Rs 4.5 lakh.

Points to be noted for natural farming:

- 1) Use indigenous seeds only in natural farming.
- 2) Hybrid seeds will not give good results.
- 3) Use indigenous cattle of Indian breed only in natural farming. Jersey or Holstein etc. is harmful.
- 4) The direction of the row of plants and crops should be north-south.
- 5) Cultivation of pulse crops should be done.
- 6) If manure (compost) made at some other place is brought and applied in the fields, then the micro-organisms found in the soil will become inactive.
- 7) The food of plants should be made near the root, then the roots will go far to take food and will become long and strong, as a result the plant will also become tall and strong. ■

INDIA FLIGHT-TESTS NEW-GEN BALLISTIC MISSILE 'AGNI PRIME'

'Agni Prime', the new-generation ballistic missile, was successfully flight-tested from an island off the Odisha coast on 08 June, 2023 officials said.

The test was conducted from the Dr APJ Abdul Kalam Island by the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), and all objectives were successfully met, they said.

This was the first pre-induction night launch conducted after three successful developmental trials of the missile, validating the accuracy and reliability of the system.

Range instrumentation such as radar, telemetry and electro-optical tracking systems were deployed at different locations, including two down-range ships, to capture flight data covering its entire trajectory, they added.

Senior officials of DRDO and Strategic Forces Command witnessed the successful flight test, which paved the way for the # Ministry of Education has taken an excellent initiative of 'Yuvasangam': PM

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi addressed the people of India through his 101st episode of Mann Ki Baat' on June 28, 2023. In the episode, PM Shri Modi said that during the 1965 war, our former Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri had given the slogan "Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan. Later, Atal Ji had also added Jai Vigyan to it. PM said that a few years ago, while talking to the scientists of the country, he added 'Jai Anusandhan'. Here, we are publishing highlights of the address for our esteemed readers:

- We talked about the Kashi-Tamil Sangamam, Saurashtra-Tamil Sangamam in 'Mann Ki Baat'. Kashi-Telugu Sangamam was also held a while ago in Varanasi. Another such unique effort to give strength to the spirit of Ek Bharat, Shrestha Bharat has taken place in the country. This is the effort of the Yuva Sangam. I thought, why not ask about this in detail from the very people who have been a part of this unique effort.
- India's strength lies in its diversity. There is a lot to see in our country. Keeping this in view, the Ministry of Education has taken an excellent initiative named 'Yuvasangam'. The objective of this initiative is to increase People to People Connect as well as to give an opportunity to the youth of the country to mingle with each other. Higher educational institutions of various states have been linked to it.
- In 'Yuvasangam' youth visit cities and villages of other states, they get an opportunity to meet different types of people. In the first round of Yuvasangam, about 1200 youths have toured 22 states of the country.

- Friends, we keep talking about the challenges related to water every summer. This time also we will take up this topic, but this time we will discuss the start-ups related to water conservation. There is a Start-Up – Fluxgen. This Start-Up provides water management options through I.O.T enabled technologies. This technology will tell us about the patterns of water usage and will help in effective use of water. Another startup is LivNSense. This is a platform based on artificial intelligence and machine learning. With its help, effective monitoring of water distribution can be done. From this it will also be ascertained where and how much water is being wasted. Another Start-Up is 'KumbhiKagaz'. This KumbhiKagaz is a topic, I am sure you will like very much.

KumbhiKagaz Start-Up has embarked upon a special task. They are working on making paper from water hyacinth, that is, water hyacinth, which was once considered a problem for water sources, is now being used to make paper.

- During the 1965 war, our former Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri had given the slogan of Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan. Later, Atal ji had also added Jai Vigyan to it. A few years ago, while talking to the scientists of the country, I talked about Jai Anusandhan. In 'Mann Ki Baat', today's reference is about such a person, about such an organization, which is a reflection of all these four, Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan, Jai Vigyan and Jai Anusandhan. This is a gentleman, Shriman Shivaji Shamrao Dole from Maharashtra. Shivaji Dole hails from a small village in Nashik district. He comes from a poor tribal farmer family, and is also an ex-serviceman. While in the army, he dedicated his life to the country. After retirement, he decided to learn something new and did a Diploma in Agriculture, that is, he moved towards Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan. ■
